

Lisa Richard

Chair, Dolphin Scholarship Foundation

Lisa Richard assumed her role as the Chair of the Dolphin Scholarship in August 2018 after her husband, VADM Chas Richard, became the Commander of the Submarine Force. The position of Chair is traditionally held by the SUBFOR spouse.

Chas and Lisa have been married for 30 years and are the proud parents of 3 children: Chase, Allison, and Emily. She loved being a “stay home” Mom to their children.

Lisa is a native of the DC suburbs and received her undergraduate degree from Towson University and Master’s degree in Communication from the University of Maryland. She is a former professional Staff Member and Legislative Assistant in the U.S. Senate. She has also been an Adjunct Professor at George Mason University.

Lisa has enjoyed working with military spouse organizations and assisting with auctions and various Dolphin Stores.

Lisa has visited all 50 states and loves to travel. She is happy to be back in her home state of Virginia and looks forward to her role as Chair of DSF.
