Quote: "Today's medical climate casts a shadow on any plan to become a medical doctor. Intense course loads coupled with the leisure and social opportunities are norms doctors have all faced. Then there are the outrageous tuition bills that are exponentially increasing. Lastly, there is the financial security, job stability, and legal liability uncertainties as our medical system morphs into whatever the future makes of it. As unpredictable and precarious as the medical field is, I am not deterred. Receiving the Dolphin Scholarship is a huge step closer to realizing this dream. At a time where our country needs steadfast direction based on duty to a greater good vice personal gain, this scholarship will enable me to take part in shaping our country's path to define the availability of our medical services ensuring our medical system grows to remain the best in the world."

Endowed Scholarship:

RADM & Mrs. Jack Lee Scholar
